Debbie,
I'm glad I had a chance to meet someone as smart
as you, even though I broke out in a rash when I saw all those A's. I hope you have a wicked good summer and I hope I see you next year when we can rankon the 9th graders

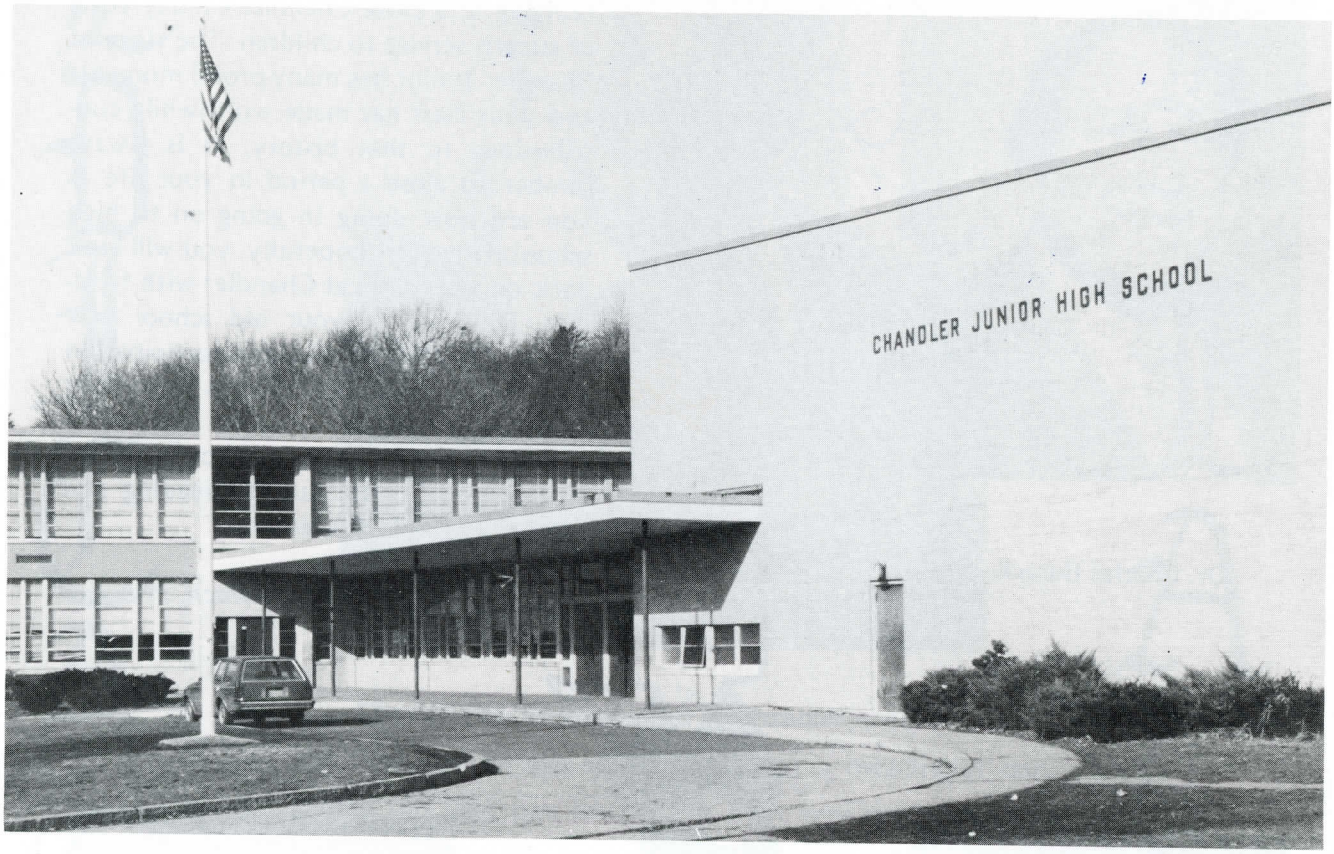
FAREWELL



1953 – 1983

On January 11, 1983, the School Committee of Worcester voted to close Chandler Junior High School. Ironically, this date coincides with the 30th anniversary of the opening of Chandler Junior High in 1953.

Most of the students attending Chandler are not aware of the extensive publicity that occurred as a result of its construction. This building was featured in a noted architectural magazine and films of the edifice were shown on the national news show "Today." This school was built for a total cost of $2,000,000, and the Architectural Forum points to the "fully equipped junior high for only $15 a square foot" as one of its strengths. In 1953 nine hundred students were enrolled as Chandler Junior High opened its doors. The magazine called it "an unusually complete junior high school plant," and of 100 new buildings it was rated among the top six in the eastern states.

At the present time, the fate of this building is uncertain; nevertheless, whatever lies ahead cannot change the memories we will share and treasure in the years to come.

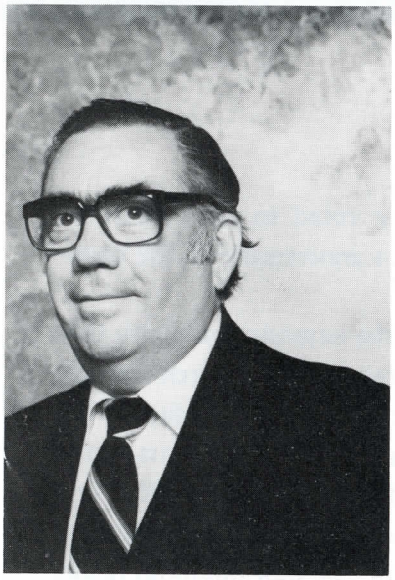
PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

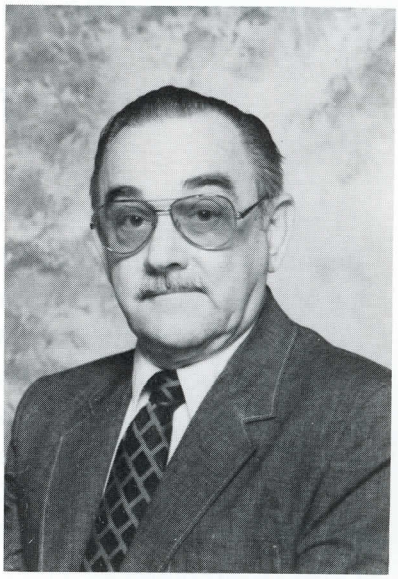
The class of '83 has the sad honor of bringing to a close Chandler's thirty years of superb service to children. The story of Chandler Junior has many proud moments and your class has made worthwhile contributions to that history. It is always somber to close a period in your life as you are now doing in going on to high school. However hopefully, you will look back on your days at Chandler with fondness. The use of your old school may change but your studies and participation in school activities will always be in your mind and heart.

Good luck with your efforts and we will be looking forward to reading and hearing of your achievements.

Charles Burack, Principal



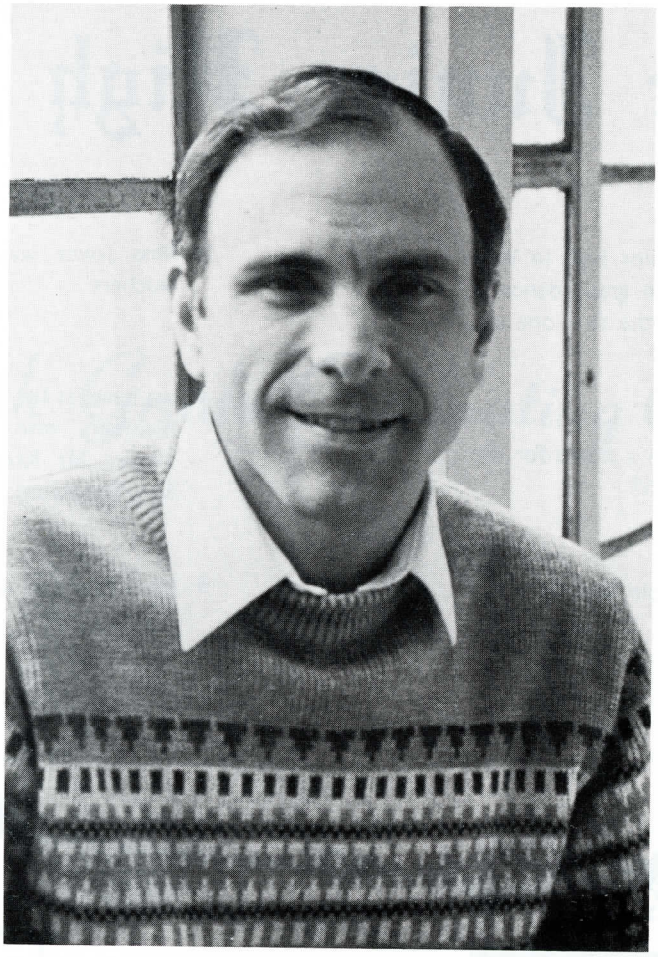
Mr. Kenneth Kirby



Mr. Frederick R. Kelley

DEDICATION

MR. LATINO



The past year we have spent at Chandler as ninth graders, our final one in the school, has been a meaningful one. During this year one teacher has been very special to us in helping to make this important year a success. From helping to complete our yearbook to running the magazine drive for our class trip, Mr. Latino has assisted us in reaching our goals.

During this past year, he has proven to be our friend as well as an excellent teacher. He cares about us and what goes on in the school. By caring, taking pride in his work, and making our time at Chandler more pleasant, Mr. Latino has made a special impression on us. His bad jokes and scare tactics in class only add to his personality and make him more than just a physiology instructor.

Throughout our three years at Chandler, we have had a variety of teachers. We will remember the good and bad times we have had in their classes, but we would like to show a special appreciation to Mr. Latino by dedicating our yearbook to him.

Debbie,
Some day I'll learn to pronounce your last name correctly
Mr. Latino

Chandler Junior High School

★ we are the only junior high in Worcester that has a 9th grade dance at Holy Cross College (the first one was in 1973)

★ Chandler was used as a home for the tornado victims in 1953

★ there is a time capsule buried in the cornerstone

★ Miss Joyce was one of the original teachers

★ we have, at the present time, four staff members who were graduates (Ms. Hurley, Mr. Krog, Ms. Backstrom, and Mrs. Thomson)

★ Mr. Papandrea saved the school from fire

★ in school sports Chandler has won two triple crowns (1963-64 and 1967-68), many championship titles, and the girls basketball team went undefeated in the 1980-81 season.

★ there have been three principals: Paul J. Corcoran, 1953-67; John S. Laws, 1967-77; and Charles Burack, 1977-83

★ one suggestion, in 1953, for the name of the new school was General Culverius T. Tyler Jr. High

★ hundreds of teachers have taught at Chandler and many taught here for more than ten years.

★ the land Chandler is built on was previously the Home Farm.

Mr. Papandrea

MR. PAPANDREA
TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Mr. Papandrea, social studies teacher here at Chandler, has been overwhelmingly selected as "Teacher of the Year" for the school year 1982-1983. It is very fitting that Mr. Papandrea, who has taught here for the past twenty-two years, should be selected in Chandler's last year as a junior high. Over the years he has been an inspiration to countless students and made social studies actually "fun." His stories about historical events, interspersed with a corny joke here and there, have mesmerized his students and spurred students to investigate events in history with deeper study.

We, the students at Chandler, salute Mr. Papandrea and congratulate him on this most pretigious award.

"SHE CARES"

Who personifies Chandler Junior High? We can't imagine any response to that question but Doris M. Joyce or Miss Joyce, as we know her.

Her Chandler career has spanned the existence of our school – 1953-1983. During those years she has been of inestimable help to countless students who remember her fondly.

It is not easy to list all the services she has rendered. First and foremost we have known Miss Joyce, THE ENGLISH TEACHER, who has never failed to come to our aid scholastically at any time of the day. In addition to her classroom duties, she has worked with our school newspaper, programs for Parents Night, and assembly programs. But what we surely will all remember is her Ballroom Dancing Program and Prom for 9th graders at Holy Cross.

Doris M. Joyce deserves much recognition for all she has done – much of it taken for granted. She is truly a dedicated teacher.

Thank you, Miss Joyce, for being at Chandler Junior High when we were. In the words of Dr. Charles Burack, Principal of Chandler Junior High School, "she cares."

Dancingly yours. God love you! Doris M. Joyce
